

China Supply Chain Selection

Dear OES family, hello everyone.

Although we are far apart, OES makes the distance disappear. We firmly believe that the great cause of OES will surely achieve one coin, one card, one world. As a bridge, China's manufacturing and supply chain system is very complete, and we are very willing to provide services for everyone. Currently, due to wars in some regions, oil prices have risen, leading to increased costs of raw materials and logistics for products. For product quotations, the quantity and time need to be confirmed in order to provide accurate pricing. Please understand.

As for products, for items like mobile phones, tablets, and computers, the demand for brands is influenced by the brand's global marketing strategy. In Europe, there are designated authorized distributors, so we are unable to provide product quotations.

Chinese Hetian Jade

- Hetian jade is one of the four famous jades of China. The main production areas are the Hotan region of Xinjiang, China.
- Hetian jade is renowned for its high toughness, delicate texture, smooth and warm oiliness, pure color, and clear, melodious sound, making it suitable for carving and collecting. High-quality Hetian jade can produce a lingering sound when struck, and its oiliness and smooth warmth are important signs for identification. Its structure and mineral composition make it not easily breakable, and it can maintain its luster and texture over long-term preservation.
- Hetian jade symbolizes good fortune, wealth, and longevity in Chinese culture and is an important material for ancient jade articles and artworks. Many historical artifacts, such as the national treasure jade seals of the Western Han Dynasty, are made of Hetian jade. Modern Hetian jade works not only have collectible value but also investment and artistic value.
